

The News-Herald.

OFFICE IN POST-OFFICE BUILDING

JANUARY 1, 1891

Mrs. L. B. Boyd and children are visiting friends in Middletown.

Col. and Mrs. Barrere are in Chillicothe attending the Britton trial.

Miss Jean Telfair, of Wilmington, is spending the holidays with her parents.

Prof. E. E. Richards, of Washington, D. C., is spending the week with friends in Hillsboro.

Mr. Jas. Buntain, in renewing for the News-Herald, says he has not missed a number since its foundation in 1837.

If you haven't time to go calling on New Year's Day, you can meet everybody you ever knew at Armory Hall in the evening.

Mrs. Benj. Pryor fell upon the ice last Saturday and is suffering from a dislocation of the hip.

The ladies of the Relief Corps will have charge of things Thursday evening at the Armory Hall.

Miss Haldee Van Winkle, of the Washington, C. H. schools, is visiting her parents at New Market.

Mr. Ed. Herron left last week for Las Vegas, New Mexico, where he will make his future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Martin, of Richmond, Ind., were the guests of Mrs. Mary Martin last week.

Henry E. Purdy and little daughter, Emma, of Arcola, Ill., were visiting G. G. Robinson and family last Wednesday.

Sheriff Mackerley took Gib Johnson to the penitentiary last Saturday. Gib seemed to be delighted with his new quarters.

The members of Carson Camp S. of V. are requested to meet in their room Thursday night, January 1st.

JOHN W. FENNER, Captain.

Miss Nettie Kline, of South Salem, Miss Anna Murray, of Greenfield, and Miss Laetitia Caldwell, of Chillicothe, were guests of the Misses Larkin last Monday.

Mr. Thos. Gore, chief engineer of the Columbus & Hooking Valley R. R., died of pneumonia at his home in Columbus on last Friday. He leaves a wife and four children.

Miss Dutton, assisted by the students of the musical department of the College, will give some time in January a musical recital, full of announcement of which will be made later.

The "Mother Goose entertainment" is postponed until Saturday evening. It will be well worth going to see and hear the children. Grand march in costume through the hall. Tableaux, &c. Choruses and recitations by the Union school pupils.

Mr. S. A. Mitchell, for several years superintendent of the Marfield Mills at Chillicothe, will assume a similar position with J. M. Boyd & Co. after January 1st. Mr. Mitchell and family will be at home at Dr. W. H. O. Davis on North High street.

In the smash up at New Vienna last week there was a car of candy and one of cigars wrecked and their contents scattered abroad. Spectators were kept at a distance however by the presence of a carload of gunpowder which was mingled with the debris.

The Lynchburg schools are prospering under the able management of Prof. H. G. Williams. The pupils of the high school have organized a literary society and the proceeds of the entertainment to be given New Year's night are for the benefit of the high school library.

Every one of the large audience, who attended the concert in the interest of the Relief Corps on Monday evening, was highly entertained. Every part of the program was excellently rendered, and no praise could be accorded to any that does not belong to all. Hillsboro is fortunate in having so talented and accommodating musicians in her midst.

The entertainment of the W. R. C. for New Year night will be a grand promenade concert, to which everybody is cordially invited. Music by Hillsboro Band and Drum Corps. Sandwiches, pickles and coffee, cake and ice-cream will be served by the ladies from six o'clock until ten. Admission 10 cents. Go and get your supper and help in a good cause.

Jac. B. Horst, who has served for three years as clerk in the Probate Judge's office, will on January 1st begin the practice of law on his own account. Mr. Horst stood for many years in the front rank of his profession as teacher in this county, and afterwards had charge of the schools at Mt. Sterling and Blanchester. In these, as well as in his capacity as a public functionary, he had formed a wide circle of friends who will stand him in good stead in his chosen profession of the law. Mr. Horst was admitted to the bar three years ago. The News-Herald joins with his numerous friends in heartiest wishes for his success in his new vocation.

A RUNAWAY.

Painful Accident to Miss Clara Brewer, of New Vienna.

Monday afternoon three young ladies from New Vienna, Miss Clara Brewer, Mrs. Julia Urton and Mrs. Effie Ingolds, drove over to Hillsboro to do some shopping. Starting home about half past four o'clock they drove out West street. In passing the O. & N. W. depot their horse became frightened and dashed down the rail road track in the direction of Bell's Foundry. Mrs. Ingolds and Mrs. Urton were thrown from the sleigh but alighting in the snow sustained no injury. Miss Brewer remained in and tried to control the frightened and kicking animal but the sleigh overturned and she was thrown with great violence against a pile of pig iron. The horse ran on to the trestle where it fell and was afterwards extricated without serious injury.

The unfortunate young lady was carried into the residence of Peter Dillon and Drs. Glenn, Smith and Spargur were summoned. It was found that the outer table of the skull was fractured, and that there was a wound in the side which might have proved fatal but for the steel corset which distributed the force of the blow. Her friends were immediately summoned by telephone from New Vienna. The condition of Miss Brewer is considered too critical to permit of her being removed to her home for a few days.

The Demorest Contest.

The declamation contest given Friday, December 19, under the auspices of the Y's, was a success, and showed the advantage of such drill for girls and boys. The contestants were Lala Richards, Sadie Morrow, Mary Murray, Mary Chaney, John Walker and Burch Huggins. The silver medal was awarded Miss Mary Chaney in a neat address by Mrs. E. J. Thompson. All the speakers showed considerable merit. Excellent music was furnished by the band and local talent.

Who Shot Cadwallader?

No arrests have been made as yet in the Blanchester shooting scrape. Cadwallader, though he was shot in Clinton county, was carried to his home just across the line into Warren county, where he died. Coroner G. W. Carey, of Lebanon, will make further investigation, as there is a strong feeling at Blanchester that Cadwallader shot Lasure in self defence, and that if he himself was shot by any hand but his own it was a case of cold blooded murder.

War Paint.

The property holders of Paint township formally presented their claims to the Board of Equalization on Monday, asking for a reduction from the 15 per cent. addition that had been placed upon them. No action was taken by the Board. Paint farmers are warning up to the war dance, and it remains to be seen whether they will carry the matter to a higher court for relief.

Miss Madge Carson is visiting friends at Wyoming, O.

Mr. Geo. Lemon, who suffered from a partial stroke while standing on the street last Monday, is rapidly recovering.

New Year's evening will be a grand social and walk around for everybody and his girl. Refreshments and a welcome for all.

The W. R. C. are under obligations to Mr. Harry Holbrook, of the three G's, who lent valuable assistance in putting the drama on the stage.

The prize set of furniture offered by the three G's Comedy Company was drawn by John Sullivan, engineer on the O. & N. W. R. R.

Mothers' Meeting will be held in the Presbyterian Church Monday, January 5th, at half-past two. Topic for discussion, "A Plea for the Children." As this meeting will be especially interesting to mothers, all are earnestly invited to attend.

The delegates composing the County Alliance are requested to meet at the Court House in Hillsboro, Saturday, January 3d, at 10 o'clock a. m., and continue in session until all necessary business is transacted. It is also desirable to have present at this meeting all the Subordinate Secretaries in the county and to be prepared to submit their duplicate report for the fourth quarter ending December 31st, 1890. The Secretaries are thus called together for the purpose of receiving instructions, and it is extremely important to all concerned that they attend this meeting and sit in a body on the left of the Chairman. The following are the names of Subordinate Secretaries:

C. A. Barry, Hillsboro.
J. C. Spilker, Dodsonville.
J. B. Davis, Rainsboro.
J. R. Rizer, Lynchburg.
Z. A. Kay, New Corwin.
P. McLaughlin, Pricetown.
A. M. Tolle, Buford.
C. B. Edwards, Samantha.
L. C. Stockwell, Nevin.
J. W. McKinney, New Market.
J. W. Campbell, Hollowtown.
E. W. Wright, Highland.
Everett Ferguson, Marshall.
J. H. Littler, Centerville.
C. A. Pickett, Berryville.
J. H. Street, East Monroe.
L. W. Beets, Folsom.

"THE ENTRY UNTO REST."

A Strange Sad Fate—The Death of Mrs. Elizabeth Woodrow Brown.

Then fell upon the house a sudden gloom,
A shadow of those features fair and thin,
And softly from that hushed and darkened room
Two angels issued where but one went in.
—Longfellow.

Sad was the news which came to Chillicothe weeks ago proclaiming the fact that the disease with which Mrs. Col. A. L. Brown had been so strangely stricken was mortal and that death was but a question of brief time.

A strange and cruel fate, it seemed for two lives which had in their association so much of promise and of happiness.

But a few short years ago her loved and honored husband, then in the prime of life and the bloom of perfect health, had been stricken down while on a visit to Hillsboro, and in the self-same room in which her loved companion on Saturday last gave up her still young life, he passed to his eternal rest.

Ill when she left Chillicothe less than a year ago—how seriously ill she did not know—she repaired to Hillsboro for relief, and there she, too, found relief only in death.

Here, where she had resided so many years, and where she was known and honored and loved so well, the sad news came indeed with heavy weight.

Elizabeth Woodrow Brown died December 20th, 1890, in Hillsboro, O., after a long and painful illness of that dread and strange disease, creeping paralysis. The germs of the malady first showed their influence about one year ago, and although the best physicians were in attendance, the onward march of the disease could not be checked by drugs or medical aid.

About the first of July, it was thought necessary to take her to Cincinnati, to seek advice and treatment from those eminent physicians, Drs. Carson and Whittaker, but the result brought no hope. Returning to Hillsboro Dr. Brown took charge of the case and was a faithful attendant until the end.

Her parents were natives of Highland county. The father, Mr. John Barry, died in Hillsboro, in the same house and same room which saw the end of the lives of Col. A. L. Brown, and later, that of his beloved wife; while the mother, Mrs. Helena Barry, still lives at the old home, surrounded by most of her family, and now, as always, highly respected and deeply beloved.

Soon after the marriage of John and Helena Barry, they settled on Clear Creek, Highland county, where their daughter, Elizabeth, was born April 6th, 1840. When quite young her parents removed to Hillsboro for the purpose of educating their children. There, under the teaching of Dr. Mathews, assisted by Miss Grand-Girard, a lady of culture and experience, she received a thorough education, which, coupled with the excellent training received at home, enabled her to fill a position of usefulness through life.

She was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Col. A. L. Brown, at her home in Hillsboro, November 12th, 1868. One child, Helena W. Brown, was the fruits of this union. Just when she joined the church is not known to the writer, but he is confident that it was more than thirty years ago. Urie Sloane and James C. Quinn were her first Sunday school pupils. In all her church work she acted in that quiet, dignified way, consistent with her Christian character, never neglecting a duty, however inconvenient or unpleasant. She was ever kind to those in a destitute condition, a gentle nurse to the sick, never ostentatious, and with her modesty was ever a characteristic.

Services were held at Hillsboro, by Dr. McNarely, prior to starting with the remains for Chillicothe, on Monday, where the funeral services proper were held at the First Presbyterian Church; Rev. McWilliams assisting Dr. Biggs in officiating.

The interment occurred at Brown's Chapel, near Clarksburg, where rest the remains of her loved husband, and by whose side she now sleeps. Capt. John D. Madeira, James C. Quinn, Esq., Hon. Theodore Spetnagel, A. L. Fullerton, Dr. John A. Nippen and Mr. Olunde Hopewell acted as pall bearers, and many sorrowing friends accompanied her remains to the grave.

The heartfelt sympathy of many friends go out to the young daughter, Miss Lena, now just entering upon the threshold of womanhood, and upon whose habits and character the loving mother's influence has left so manifest an impression.

It Should.

The success of the chair factory as far as it went demonstrates the feasibility of manufacturing furniture in Hillsboro at a profit. The beneficial effects of its presence in bringing money into the community and distributing it through the channels of local circulation were apparent to all and are especially noticeable since the factory stopped operations. A movement is on foot to reorganize and rebuild, and should it meet the proper encouragement from those who have capital to invest, the wheels will soon again go round and the hum of industry be heard.

Britton—West Nuptials.

LYNCHBURG, December 27th.

One of the most pleasant social events of the season in this vicinity was the wedding of Miss Mary West and Mr. Stanley J. Britton, of Columbus, O., on the 23d inst. at high noon, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Louisa West, near Lynchburg, O.

The bride and groom entered the parlor where they were united in marriage by Rev. Philip Trout, of the M. E. Church. After "they twain were made one" they received the congratulations of their friends, and immediately led the way to the dining room where an elegant dinner was spread for the occasion. The bride, a well known and most estimable young lady, was handsomely attired in a costume of heliotrope serge trimmed with princess passementerie and a wreath of Marechal Neil roses and sunlax.

The groom wore a suit of black. He is a graduate of Delaware College and also of the Cincinnati Law School, and is now a practicing attorney in Columbus, where they expect to make their future home, to which place they will go after spending a few days here with relatives and friends. Guests to the number of about fifty were present. The following is a list of presents tendered by friends present and absent: Lace bed spread and pillow shams, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kenworthy; water set, Mr. and Mrs. John West; set tea spoons, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson Oldaker; napkin rings, Miss Ethel Britton; clock, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bering; glass fruit dish, Miss Laura A. West; pitcher and pair of towels, Mr. and Mrs. P. Betterton; silver castor, Mr. and Mrs. Jon-h Britton; set of silver knives, forks and spoons, Mrs. Louisa West; crayon picture, Miss Lydia Jackson; silver butter dish, Mr. William A. West; pair of fancy vases, Mrs. Mary A. and Miss Jessie Betterton; one set after dinner coffee spoons, Misses Lou and Ella West; lamp, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Garner; silver and glass fruit dish, Rev. and Mrs. Tont; hanging lamp, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Terrell; butter knife and sugar spoon, Mr. and Mrs. James West; table cloth and napkins, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller and daughter; toilet set, Mr. and Mrs. T. Chaney and daughter; pair of towels, Mrs. Artie Stamats and Miss Jennie Rose; silver pickle castor, Miss Anna Bering; table cloth, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. West; celery glass, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey West; beautiful scenery picture, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley I. Ruse; foot stool, Miss Florence Miller; glass dish, Mr. and Mrs. Collin Thompson.

The reception by the parents of the groom occurred on Christmas Day.

Walker Camp.

SUGARTREE RIDGE, O., Dec. 26, '90. Three months ago Walker Camp 459, S. of V. U. S. A., was organized with eleven members. Since then the camp has steadily increased in numbers until they have almost trebled in numbers and feeling their importance they concluded to hold a Christmas festival. To say it was a success places it very mildly. Early in the evening large crowds began gathering and ere it was quite dark both large rooms were filled. Mr. Mitchell and daughter, Cora, and Messrs. Edgington and Tannehill furnished music, which was in every way fine. The dining room was full from 7 to 10 o'clock and none went away hungry. Candies and confections also disappeared rapidly, nickles and dimes taking their places. The ladies of the town and surrounding country have our thanks for the many beautiful cakes and eatables which were so kindly donated for the benefit of the camp. We might mention some of the donations containing beautiful mottoes, emblems, etc., but space forbids. Suffice it to say we feel under obligations to the many who patronized us and helped us so much. S. or V's.

Under a Cloud.

The drama put on at the Armory Hall by the young people for the benefit of the Relief Corps drew a full house on Tuesday night and was given an enthusiastic reception. The play is rather on the order of heavy tragedy but is relieved by bright patches of comedy and flashes of humor which elicited rapturous applause from a sympathetic and responsive audience. All the parts were sustained in a manner that would be creditable to professionals. The play will be repeated Wednesday evening by request in place of the Mother Goose entertainment, which was postponed till Saturday. The Hall was crowded last night and it is expected that to-night Under a Cloud will be greeted by such an audience as befits the merits of the play and the worthiness of the cause of the W. R. C.

Anson—Lewis.

[Communicated.]

Married on the 24th of December, 1890, at the residence of the bride's parents by the Rev. R. K. Deem, Marion, only daughter of Christopher and Louisa K.
